Roosevelt Message On the Air

To Broadcast
Summary of Address
To Congress on State of Nation

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—President Roosevelt will take to the air tomorrow night to summarize to the nation his state of the union message to be delivered to congress earlier in the day.

The chief executive, telling his new conference today that the message will deal with foreign policy and manpower, among other things, said it will be about 8,000 words long.

His foreign policy discussion, he indicated, may touch on the subject of more materials for the French.

The broadcast will be carried by all networks from 9 to 9:30 p. m. (CWT).

In connection with his foreign policy discussions today, the president said in reply to questions that a new program for feeding Italy has been agreed upon and that more food is going in there. He could not estimate the increase in pounds but said there were more calories in the new shipments.

Shipping a Problem

He said shipping still is a very great problem in feeding the Italians.

Told that some people believe the Italian armistice terms should be made public on the ground that military considerations are no longer a factor for continued secrecy, the president said military people on the spot still consider this factor important.

Some people in this country, he added, seem to know more than they do.

A comprehensive discussion of foreign affairs is anticipated in the president's message.

Clinton Lieut. Saved at Sea

AT LEYTE AIRBASE, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Six members of a Mitchell bomber crew were rescued at sea by a Catalina yesterday after spending three hours in a life raft between two Japanese-held islands.

They were forced to make a water landing after ack-ack set one engine afire during a raid on a Japanese airfield.

The men included 2nd Lt. Robert W. Reed Springfield, Mo., and 2nd Lt. Clive Wilson, route 5, Clinton, Missouri.

All are members of the 345th bomber group.

"We came down to a beautiful crash landing," said Reed, "about ten miles offshore. A small fleet of canoes and sailing craft came out from shore and we sure sweated it out," he said, "fearing they were Japs. They proved to be Filipinos."

Allege Man Falsely Wore an Emblem

The man who gave his name as Rev. Robert Mays, of Kansas City, picked up by the police Thursday afternoon for investigation, today was charged by Prosecuting Attorney L. J. Harned with falsely wearing an emblem. The charges were filed in the court of Judge C. W. Bente, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace.

He was picked up by Officer George Ripley at the Missouri Pacific depot after he had been seen wearing a War Dad cap while soliciting funds for a religious organization. Mays claims membership in a War Dad organization in Kansas City.

He is being held in the county jail pending a hearing before Judge Bente, which probably will be Saturday morning.

Geo. W. Arnold Estate Is Appraised

The estate of the late George W. Arnold, who died last week, has been appraised at $104,567.60 by Henry C. Salveter, Quincy A. Morgan and Frank Monroe, appraisers appointed by Judge J. E. Smith of the Probate court.

The real estate was appraised at $14,750 and the personal property, consisting mostly of real estate notes, bonds and cash at $89,817.60.

Twenty-four Axis Prisoners
Are Still Escapes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Twenty-four of the 1,152 Axis prisoners of war who have escaped from camps in this country are still at large, the war department reported today.

Eighteen are Germans and six are Italians.

Must Review Cases of Some Registrants

More Young Men
In Service Essential
To War Effort

The Pettis county selective service board has received a directive in regard to review of classification and preinduction physical examination of all registrant ages 18 through 25 in classes 2-C and 3-C.

According to the information received by J. K. Kidd, Jr., local draft board clerk, all local boards are directed to immediately review the cases of all registrants from 18 through the age of 25 deferred in Class 2-C, excluding those identified by the letters "F" or "L."

The boards are urged to start the reclassification immediately.

The new orders mean that every man in the quoted age range and class will be sent for preinduction physical examination unless he has previously had it, or he has an obvious physical defect, certified by the examining physician.

Army and Navy Essential

Careful study of the Tydings amendment and of the directive in which the finding of the President is quoted, "indicates to us that the agricultural occupation of a registrant 18 through 25 is not as essential to the war effort as the need for young men in the Army and Navy," the report from state headquarters to the local boards emphasizes.

The bulletin from the Missouri headquarters of the selective service system, just received by members of the local board, points out that some registrants will take an appeal after being placed in 1-A and that the sooner they receive the notice the sooner the case can go to the local appeal board. The file, however, cannot be sent to the appeal board until the registrant has had his preinduction physical examination.

County Court Orders Today

Orders made by the County Court today are:

Miss Marjorie Rector was appointed as an assistant to Miss Reba Gum to do typing and mimeographing for the office, at the salary of $35.00 per month. Miss Rector will perform these duties with those she now performs as secretary to the school superintendent.

It has been agreed to move the selective service office to the ground floor, and the county health office to the second floor of the court house, where the selective service office is now located.

James R. Blaylock has again been reappointed superintendent of the County Home for one year effective February 1, 1945 with an increase of $5.00 per month, the salary now $75.00 per month. Said appointment is subject to cancellation on 30 days notice by either party.

Mrs. James R. Blaylock was appointed as assistant to James R. Blaylock for one year subject to the same conditions, with the increase in salary of $5.00; her salary now is $55.00 per month.

Bothwell Hospital Notes

James F. Bechtel, Houstonia and Mrs. Fred Fisher, 638 East Fourteenth street, admitted for medical treatment.

Arthur Kemp of Dresden and Miss Barbara Green, 1402 South Kentucky avenue, dismissed.

Mrs. Harold Withers, Longwood, admitted for surgery.

Enemy Claims Sinking Aircraft Carrier, Two Battleships

By the Associated Press

Tokyo radio broadcast an imperial communique today claiming that Japanese planes "sank one aircraft carrier and two battleships or cruisers" in the western Philippines sea Thursday night.

The unconfirmed broadcast, recorded by the federal communications commission, placed the vessels west of Panay island in the Sulu sea south of Mindoro.

The communique said that at dawn Thursday American convoys reached San Jose bay off Mindoro Island, and on the afternoon a U. S. task force entered the waters west of Panay.

Charles Gray, 34 Admits he Entered Home

Was Arrested
Today and Confessed
To Police Officers

Charles Gray, 34-year-old Negro, 209 West Cooper, was arrested by the police and this afternoon confessed to entering the home of Lieut. and Mrs. John J. Kubik, 721 West Third street last Christmas night. Gray had been sought since that time and early today a "tip" was received which led to his arrest.

Gray told the officers that he had been drinking during the day and had called a resident on West Third street, as he had done in past years on Christmas day to see if he had a "little" drink for him. He said he then went to West Third street but evidently made a mistake in the residence and went to the wrong address.

He told of going to the back door, knocking and when no one answered he "kinda pushed the door open," walked in and called out the name of the man he was supposed to get the drink from. He said he heard someone call to him, he believed from the outside of the house and then the man stepped in. "I became scared," he said, "and ran. I don't know which way I ran but I was caught near the packing plant at Harrison and Main street. One man struck me several times and made my nose bleed, then I heard him tell someone else to get the police. I suddenly jumped up and ran and got away."

Wanted to Square Himself
"I have had several little run-ins with the police and I didn't intend to get my two coats and hat which were jerked off of me by the man," Gray said. Continuing Gray said he intended to go after another white man in Sedalia for whom he used to work and then go back and try and square himself. But he couldn't contact the man at the time.

Gray is held in the county jail pending filing of charges against him in the court of Judge C. W. Bente.

Lieutenant Kubik was the officer who chased Gray and struck him, and Lieut. D. W. Polk, who was with Lieut. Kubik at the time, went for the police. The two officers had been at the Volk residence and had returned to Lieut. Kubik's home to get some cigars when they found Gray in the house.

The Negro denied doing any other prowling in Sedalia. He did admit serving a sentence in Kansas and also a five year term in the Missouri penitentiary as well as having several minor run-ins with the local police.

House Clears Way for Action On Relief Fund

Approve Bills
Heretofore Not up
For Several Days

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Driving at record speed toward quick release of old age pension money, the house of representatives today approved several temporary appropriation bills—which never before have reached that stage so soon as the third day of a new session.

The social security appropriation itself was not reached today, because six other measures must move ahead of it. But the way was cleared for action on the welfare funds early next week.

Old age pension payments, due last Monday, must await their passage.

For the first six months of this year, appropriations chairman R. J. King, Jr., (R), Franklin county, has proposed $9,178,750 of state funds for social security. That is about $2,000,000 short of the $11,252,135 asked by the social security commission for that period, and King scheduled a committee meeting next Tuesday to hear the commission's plea.

Cuts Direct Relief

Biggest cut King made in the commission's request was in direct relief, for which he proposed $500,000 contrasted with $1,976,725 asked.

Parke M. Banta, state social security administrator, said that would force an immediate cut of more than 50 per cent in relief payments which he said "are not enough at present."

He said about 20,000 persons on relief have been receiving an average of $8.50 a month each and that King's bill would allow them less than $4.

There was little difference between King's and Banta's figures on old age assistance and aid to dependent children and Banta said there was no prospect of any material change in the rate of those payments.

Senate in Recess

The house worked alone today with the senate in recess until next Monday when new state officials will be inaugurated.

Among the six months' financing measures perfected today was one allotting $3,260,837 to eleemosynary institutions, a slight increase over their 1943-44 spending rate. The bill included $403,500 for state hospital No. 1 at Fulton; $463,250 for state hospital No. 2 at St. Joseph; $376,000 for hospital No. 3 at Nevada; $322,000 for hospital No. 4 at Farmington; $201,000 for the state school for feeble minded at Marshall and $345,000 for the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Mount Vernon.

The hospitals were given increases in their salary funds to finance pay boosts designed to lessen turnover among their employees.

Most of the six months measures are approximately one-fourth the appropriations given the department in the last two years.

War Prisoner Sends a Card

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Helfrich, 2400 South Collins, received a printed card from their son, Staff Sgt. Joseph Helfrich, who is a prisoner of the German government. The card, which bears Sgt. Helfrich's signature, reads: "I have been taken prisoner in Germany. I am in good health but slightly wounded. Please don't write until I get a new address." It was dated October 10.

Regrouping Of Allied Command

Montgomery Has Led Allied Forces
North of Salient
Since December 20

Supreme headquarters announced today a regrouping of western front commands placing Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery and Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley in charge of operations against the Germans' deep salient in Belgium.

At the same time Prime Minister Churchill returned to London after conferring with Gen. Eisenhower and Marshal Montgomery.

These developments coincided with field reports which said the Allies' attack on the Von Rundstedt salient was progressing slowly against stiffest German resistance.

Montgomery was disclosed as commander of all Allied forces on the north side of the salient facing south. These troops include not only his British Second army but also major elements of the U. S. First and Ninth armies.

Bradley was disclosed as the commander on the south side of the salient where Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army is the strongest force.

Montgomery has been in charge on the north side of the salient since Dec. 20, or four days after Von Rundstedt unlimbered his surprise offensive which crashed 50 miles deep into Belgium and across vital Allied communication lines.

Agreed on Commands

"When the German penetration through the Ardennes created two fronts, one substantially facing north and the other south, by instant agreement of all concerned that portion of the front facing south was placed under command of Field Marshal Montgomery and that facing north under command of Gen. Bradley," said the supreme headquarters announcement.

Bradley's new command includes one division of Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's Seventh army, which presumably was brought up from Alsace or a nearby rest area.

President Roosevelt in Washington said Montgomery was not being made a deputy commander to Eisenhower as a result of the shift. London dispatches in the last few days, speculating on the reshuffle, had suggested that such might be the case. Montgomery was deputy commander in charge of all ground forces under Eisenhower until last September.

Middleton Pays Reward

Frank Middleton, city councilman from the first ward, this afternoon presented his check for $500 to Sergeant George Maness, of the Sedalia police force, as reward for the arrest and conviction of the four Negroes, who robbed and beat him the night of September 24, 1944. Maness, who is secretary-treasurer of the Sedalia Police Benefit fund, will place the money in the fund, until Chief Anson Fennell decides on its distribution.

The Negroes Emanuel Andrews and Willie Dewitt Price were each sentenced to ten years in prison and George Blackstone and John Buckner were sentenced to five years each, after they had pleaded guilty to robbery in circuit court this week before Judge D. M. Hoffman in circuit court.

Meeting Tonight On Sedalia's Future

Everyone interested in Sedalia's post war plans is invited to attend an open meeting tonight at Hotel Bethwell Ambassador room. The discussion will be opened at 8 o'clock and will be led by I. H. Reed, president of the Chamber of Commerce. There will be an explanation of the proposed plan announced last week. No funds will be solicited.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—George C. Smith, president of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, said today his organization expects to spend $20,000 between now and February 27 on a publicity campaign urging adoption of the proposed Missouri constitution.

The campaign will be conducted in the St. Louis area. The funds, Smith said, represent part of a surplus on hand at the close of last year.

U. S. Fortresses Jab at Nazi Targets Despite Thick Clouds

LONDON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Allied bombers blasted a communications center on the northern flank of the German bulge in Belgium and raked Nazi positions behind the front in a full-scale assault today.

Holland-based Mitchells and Bostons of Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's air force—the RAF Second tactical—raided a concentration of German material near St. Vith before noon.

Huge formations of U. S. Eighth air force flying fortresses and Liberators jabbed at rail and road centers despite thick clouds which obscured targets.

Bombing of Formosa and The Ryukyus

May be Going on
For Third Straight
Day; Radio Blackout

By the Associated Press

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Jan. 5.—The crushing might of U. S. Third fleet aircraft carriers, whose deep penetration of enemy waters has given Japan warning of major war developments, may have fallen for the third straight day on Formosa and the Ryukyus.

An ominous radio blackout today by the fleet strongly suggested that possibility.

Hitting two strongholds at once, indicating even greater striking power than that loosed on separate days against the same targets last October, the carrier planes struck Tuesday and Wednesday U. S. date for sure.

That much was confirmed yesterday by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz in a communique which said the details "are not yet available."

That phraseology often covers a continuing operation.

(The circumstances surrounding the present attacks are such that the most concentrated aircraft carrier blows of the Pacific war may well be in progress.

Combustion Luzon

Last October, when the way was cleared for reinvansion of the Philippines, the carriers had the added responsibility of knocking out the enemy airforce in the Philippines ahead of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Leyte-bound transports.

(Now, from newly won and developed land bases on Leyte and Mindoro, MacArthur's planes are coming prized Luzon island, leaving the carriers free to fuse their power against Formosa and the Ryukyus.)

Nimitz' terse account yesterday contrasted sharply with Tokyo radio's unconfirmed reports that 500 Hellcats, Helldivers and Avengers hit Formosa and Okinawa for nearly seven hours the first day.

The enemy said 400 returned for another seven hours the second day.

By the Associated Press

Four American superfortresses flew over Japan Thursday night and early today on harassing and reconnaissance raids, Tokyo radio reported.

The unconfirmed domestic broadcast, recorded by the federal communications commission, said two B-29s dropped bombs and two did not. All flights were made over south central Honshu by Saipan-based superfortresses.

Beginning Monday Library Will Be Open From 9 a. m. To 9 p. m.

The Sedalia public library, effective Monday, January 8, will again be open from 9:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. During the past several months, because of repairs and redecoration on the interior of the building, it was deemed advisable to close every evening at 6:00 o'clock.

British 2nd Army Thrown Into Battle Of the Belgian Bulge

Churchill Confers
With Eisenhower
And Montgomery

LONDON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill conferred today with Gen. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery.

An announcement from 10 Downing street said:

"The prime minister, accompanied by the chief of the imperial general staff, returned this afternoon from a short visit to France during the course of which he met Gen. Eisenhower and Field Marshal Montgomery.

"He also had conversations with Gen. de Gaulle and Mr. Duff Cooper." Duff Cooper is British representative to the French government.

Nazi Panzer Thrust Enters Its Third Day

Russians Storm
German Forces
Holding Budapest

LONDON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Moscow radio announced tonight that the Soviet government had recognized the Polish provisional government in Lublin.

By Daniel de Luce

MOSCOW, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Russian forces were reported grimly holding off German armored attacks supported by hundreds of planes today in the Soviet-held corridor, once 30 miles deep, northwest of beleaguered Budapest.

The German Panzer thrust down from the Danube, west of the big Danube bend, entered its third day. It appeared daringly designed to LONDON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—The Berlin radio reported today that the Red army was massing troops in the Vistula bridgehead area 120 miles south of Warsaw and was again probing Nazi lines along the Polish front.

liberate remnants of nine Nazi divisions trapped in the Hungarian capital.

Inside Budapest Russian storm forces for the eighth day gained more ground and now have occupied 1,400 city blocks since the initial attack last Friday, a Soviet communique said.

The German counter offensive northwest of the city was fed by panzer and air force reserves brought directly from the Reich. The Russians said, and they were flung recklessly into battle in a desperate bid to break the Soviet siege line clamped around the capital.

Knock Out 100 Tanks

The Russians asserted they had knocked out more than 100 tanks in two days in the relatively narrow corridor about 20 miles southwest of Komarom.

A Red Star front line dispatch said waves of German tanks beat against Russian defenses in the Vertes hills and along the right bank of the Danube. Nazi formations of 15 to 50 fighter-bombers, stabbed repeatedly at Red army ground positions.

In spite of the reported loss yesterday of 58 aircraft, the Luftwaffe swarmed into action again today. They were accepted by Russian fighters.

Missouri Exceeds War Loan Quota

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Missourians have exceeded all their quotas for the Sixth War Loan drive, Walter W. Head, chairman of the Missouri War Finance Committee, said yesterday.

Total overall sales through January 3 were $422,170,000 compared with the state quota of $276,000,000. Sales to individuals were $138,746,000 against a quota of $118,000,000.

Head said Missouri's series E bond quota of $63,000,000 had been topped with sales totalling $67,348,000.

Hodges First Army
Whittled Down the German Escape Gap
To About 12 Miles

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Third Army armor made a two-mile withdrawal today in the Michamps area, four miles northeast of Bastogne.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Veteran British infantry and armor thrown into the Belgian bulge counterattack by Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commanding all Allied forces on the north side of the salient, has gained up to 2,000 yards all along the front.

This was disclosed at supreme headquarters today along with the fact that the U. S. First and Ninth armies have been under Montgomery's command since Dec. 20, when the Germans were threatening to break the Allies' western front forces in half.

While the British gained on the north today, the German attack into northeastern France against the U. S. Seventh army developed into a full offensive with a drive forward for two more miles southeast of Bitche—close to 15 miles inside France and within 12 miles of Severne gap, the key to Strasbourg.

Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, American commander of the 12th Army Group, was disclosed in charge of all Allied forces on the south side of the bulge. Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third army is a chief element of this command. (A Washington announcement said one Seventh army division was included under Bradley's command.)

Bradley's command formerly included the First and Ninth armies.

Into Action Thursday

British Second army tanks and infantry went into action yesterday at the northwestern tip of the Von Rundstedt salient and reached Waha in a push of 1,500 yards.

The drive is continuing, field dispatches said, and netted up to 2,000 yards, all along its front from Marche to the right flank of the U. S. First army to the east.

Other British units attacked the Germans on the outskirts of newly captured Bure and Wavreille, south of Rochefort at the western end of the salient.

The British were rushed to the front at the first sign of danger to Liege when Von Rundstedt launched his offensive and backstopped American lines until yesterday, when they went on the offensive.

Six Allied and German armies thus were committed to the grinding battle being fought in drifting snow, fog and miserable terrain—some of the worst fighting conditions of the war—and the Allied assault on the German north flank was "broadened to 35 miles.

Field reports also announced that troops of a fourth Allied army, the U. S. Ninth army, had been engaged in the bulge battle, but it was not disclosed whether they still were in action.

With slow, steady gains on a 17-mile front on the north side of the salient, Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' U. S

Sunday School Lesson

Childhood of Jesus Was Influenced by Religious Faith of His Family. Text: Matthew, Chapters 1 and 2

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

A lesson on the childhood of Jesus comes as a fitting aftermath of the Christmas season, in which all interest has centered upon the little town of Bethlehem and the wonderful birth of the babe in the manger.

The story of the boyhood is less colorful and less complete. In fact except for the very colorful story of Jesus in the Temple, disputing with the doctors, at the age of 12, the reference to the boyhood of Jesus is confined to the one bare, but significant statement that He "increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

Was there ever so much expressed in so few words? How easy it is to fill in the picture of the boyhood in that simple home in Nazareth—a normal boy, growing up in the home of a devout father and a loving and discerning mother, a dutiful son, among relatives living in the richness of their Old Testament religion, full of the idea of a coming Messiah, and expectant of the blessings His coming and His reign were to bring.

The whole atmosphere was such as to develop in the boy, in His natural growth and experience, all that characterized the divine Christ—for we must never forget that the divine character of Christ was formed and revealed in the earthly and human life. That home in Nazareth was the scene of preparation for all the glory of the later ministry of the Master, whose supreme mission was to bear witness unto truth and "to seek and to save the lost."

It is not difficult to estimate the influence of Mary, as she kept all the marvelous things of His birth and "pondered them in her heart," nor can we underestimate the wholesome influence of Joseph, as the boy helped him in the carpenter shop and perhaps designed and shaped with His own hands the things that His imagination suggested.

But the supreme influences were undoubtedly those of the Old Testament religion, that He was not to destroy, but to fulfill. With the Jewish synagogue were associated elements of education that in their concern for the instruction and guidance of youth have never been surpassed. Attached to the synagogue was the school, but in the service of the synagogue itself the Shema, consisting of Deuteronomy 6:4-9, occupied a place of importance similar to that of the Lord's Prayer in modern Christian worship.

To an earnest young boy to whom words had meaning and reality, one can well imagine the thrill these words brought as Sabbath after Sabbath He heard the congregation unite in the deepest expression of faith and devotion. "Hear, O Israel, the Lord thy God is one God," followed by the two commandments, upon which Jesus later said "hang all the law and the prophets."

But more earthly influences, also, were preparing the Savior for His mission. Nazareth was hidden in the hills, but a mile or so away the great trade caravans passed. The little province of Galilee was teeming with life and industry. It was a meeting place of north and south, of east and west, with a mingling of races and languages—a fitting place for a boy to grow up who was to have a world mission and a world gospel for the saving of all men without regard to class, race or color.

New Year Resolution

New Year's Day is a traditional time for making of intimate personal resolutions. There is one resolution, however, we ought to make, not as isolated individuals, but as members of the great society of men: to be better neighbors.

The world must devote its thoughts and energies to a better postwar order, in which peace will be synonymous with justice and good will and with equal opportunity for all, irrespective of race, color or creed. This means an all-out dedication to tasks that must begin in homes, schools, churches—in all places where the impact of new social ideas and new social responsibilities can produce the best results.

The world's problem goes deep into the realms of religion, psychology—and plain common sense. It will be solved only when neighbors in cities, towns, and villages become neighbors in truth; when Protestant, Catholic, and Jew are equally honored and respected; when, white, yellow, and black men cease to be color-conscious; when, in short, each of us resolves to act as befits the children of a common father.

Some of us may have to make a determined, conscious effort to live up to such a resolve. But would we confess that, spiritually, our backs are weak? Would we confess that our democratic pretensions are just that—pretensions? Would we, in face of the world's crying need, close our hearts to justice, charity, and good faith?

For the sake of those who fight our battles today, of those who still suffer under the totalitarian tyranny, for the salvation of the world, we hope that few will evade the challenge to re-order their lives in closer harmony with those of mankind in general.

"GOD" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, January 7, 1945.
Golden Text: Isaiah 45:22.
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I will be glad and rejoice in thee: I will sing praise to thy name, O thou most High. And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee." (Ps. 9:2, 10)
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor mind,—that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle. To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is." (p. 275)

U. S. Tankmen Find Moving in Blizzard Tough

Weather, Terrain
As Hard on Men
As on Their Tanks

By Hal Boyle
WITH THE U. S. FIRST ARMY
IN BELGIUM, Jan. 4.—(Delayed)
—(P)— American tankmen plowing through winter blizzards in Lt.
Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' great and stirring First Army counter-attack have undertaken perhaps the toughest assignment handed any U. S. armored force in this war.

"If we could put those Sherman on skis we would have the best secret weapon of the war," said a veteran tankman who fought in the sands of Africa and Sicily's mountains. They were less of a problem than the snow, ice, slush and mud of the Belgian Ardennes.
No one but a truck driver trying to carve a new roadway across the January-locked Catskills can begin to appreciate the incredible difficulties being overcome by these tankmen as they drive slowly southward across snowy hills to link up with Lt. Gen. George S.
Patton's embattled Third Army at Bastogne.

Despite their great bulk and imposing strength, tanks are in many ways delicate and limited weapons. They are as out of place as a rhinoceros in a field of hills and storms.

Tankmen like to work on firm rolling ground with plenty of cover and a few streams and rivers.
They like such country because it gives them room to maneuver and flank enemy defenses instead of cracking them head-on.

Tanks Must Crawl
But in this wintry fairland, where snow-covered forests are decked like a million modernistic Christmas trees, armored columns must crawl like ungainly beetles along the center of ice-glazed roads. There they become "shoot-

Senate Veterans Meet

Gov.-Elect Phil M. Donnelly (left) shakes hands with State Senator Frank P. Briggs, Macon Democrat, in Missouri's senate chamber as the 1945 legislative session gets under way. Briggs is expected to be appointed to the U. S. senate when Sen. Harry S. Truman becomes vice president.

ing gallery" targets for well placed enemy anti-tank guns.

"Even so, weather and the terrain cause us more trouble than the German guns," said one armored commander. "I have lost the use of more tanks from weather since this offensive began than I have from von Rundstedt's anti-tank guns."

"When one of my tanks slides off these slippery roads it is likely to throw a tread — and it takes some repairs to get it going again."

And when a tank or half-track breaks down on one of the narrow logging trails leading through these bleak ridge forests the whole column is halted. Vehicles which pull off the trail and try to go around are likely to bog down hopelessly. It takes minor engineering miracles to get broken vehicles out of line so the attacking column can keep moving.

"It is impossible for us in this weather to show our real mobility," said the same armored leader. "It took us 14 hours to move into position for this attack."

Hard on Troops
And this warfare is as tough on the men as it is on their tanks.
Doughboys riding along with them can reduce battle peril by knocking out ambushing antitank guns.
But for the infantrymen who tramp beside the tanks or the crews who ride inside them there is no relief from the spirit-sapping cold.

Unlike the Aachen and Duren fronts in Germany, where there are many dwellings in which the soldiers could find shelter, this vast Ardennes battlefield has few homes or buildings where troops can snatch a few hours of warmth and rest.

Here they can heat their chilled bodies only when they pause long enough to build log fires—and during an attack these periods are few. For many hours tankmen must sit cramped and freezing in their cold iron warhorses.
Yet despite prolonged exposure to frigid temperatures morale is very high.

"It is higher than I can explain, considering the conditions under which the men are fighting," one officer told me.

Perhaps the best reason was given by one shivering but still wincing tank gunner:
"The fireside I want to get back to is at home," he said, "and I know darned well we ain't going to get there while there are any Jerries left in Belgium."

Another Boy
Is Involved In
Theft At Plant

Case Of Three
Before Juvenile Court Thursday

Since the hearing in Juvenile court Thursday morning for three boys implicated in robberies in Sedalia in December, another youth has been involved. William "Bill" Wheeler, 18, 1220 East Third street, and a fifth boy admitted accepting part of money obtained from cashing of checks which had been stolen in the Burnett Packing Co. robbery.

Thursday evening Paul Lindy Yeager, Washington, Penn., and James "Jimmy" Van Zike, were questioned at police headquarters after it had been learned others were mixed up in the robbery.

They told of Wheeler driving the automobile to the Packing company and of his waiting for them until they came out of the building, then drove them to town and to the Missouri Pacific underpass where the checks obtained with the money were hidden. Wheeler they said obtained $47 as his part.

Wheeler when questioned admitted driving the car and taking $47 as his part of the loot.
Another juvenile was picked up after Yeager had told the officers he had given him some money. It was said that $22 was given this third juvenile by Yeager after a check was cashed at Corbett's and an additional $12 from a check cashed at the Flat Creek Inn. He was turned over to the probation officer. He did not take any actual part in the robbery of the packing company, L. J. Harned, prosecutor said.

No charge will be filed against this boy as he had no actual part in the robbery.

Charges of burglary and larceny were filed in the court of Judge C. W. Bente, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace, this morning, against Wheeler. He waived a preliminary hearing and he was bound over to the action of the criminal court. Wheeler is endeavoring to furnish a $2,000 bond for his release until his trial comes up in the criminal court, but at present is being held in the county jail.

home in Cole Camp last Sunday morning.

He was born May 24, 1960, three miles east of Cole Camp, the son of Peter and Rebecca Brauer Tobaben. He was married to Miss Margaret Brockman in 1882. They were the parents of five children:
R. J. Tobaben who died a few years ago, Theo Tobaben of Kansas City, Mrs. N. G. Parks of Corpus Christi, Texas, Mrs. Chris Rusnick and Mrs. Emil Winklemeyer of Cole Camp. Surviving Mr. Tobaben in addition to his wife and the four children are four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

He was a member of the Trinity Lutheran church.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Gerike.
Burial was in Memorial cemetery.
Pallbearers were Theo Tobaben, Norman Tobaben, Fred Ehlers, Lonnie, Lawrence and Alfred Brockman.

Funeral Of Mrs. Cronin

Funeral services for Mrs. Nancy Morgan Taylor Cronin, widow of the late Joshua E. Cronin, a former Sedalia, who died December 28 in Los Angeles, Calif., were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Gillespie funeral home. The Rev. Clyde S. Sherman, pastor of the First Christian church, officiated, assisted by the Rev. A.
W. Kokendoffer.

Pallbearers were six nephews, John F. Taylor, Carl Paige, Howard Paige and Leo Sullivan of Sedalia, and William Odell and Robert Paige of St. Louis.

Music was in charge of Mrs.
H. O. Foraker. Miss Margaret Edwards and Mrs. W. L. Lewis sang "Shadows" and "Peace, Sweet Peace."

Burial was in the La Monte cemetery.
The body arrived in Sedalia Thursday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. F. H. Helsley, daughter of Mrs. Cronin. A son, J. C. Cronin, and Mrs. Cronin of Suffolk, Ohio, are here to attend the services.
Another son, Frank Cronin of Mogadore, Ohio, who suffered

Dari Ann says

School time again
Time for new, tast-
AND nutritious item for school lunches
Here's a suggestion—and it combines simplicity, nutrition and taste. Serve warm for dinner, but hold back enough for those sandwiches for lunch nexday. Delicious spread with cream cheese, fruit jellies or just plain butter.

Peanut Butter Bread

1 cup white flour
1 cup whole wheat flour
3 tablespoons sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix and sift into mixing bowl, then add—

1 whole egg well beaten
3/4 cup water
3/4 cup DARICRAFT
3/4 cup Peanut Butter
1/2 cup chopped salted peanuts Bake in greased loaf pan at 350° for 45 min.

Now get yourself some DARICRAFT and try this on your family soon, won't you? Watch the kiddies—AND father—rave about its "zooty" flavor. Of course, it's DARICRAFT that gives it that "special goodness." You can buy it at most grocery stores now.

Each family we serve decides how much they can afford and wish to spend. Regardless of price, nothing is left undone to make each funeral the best-possible value in service and merchandise.

THE DAILY WASHINGTON

Merry-Go-Round
 by DREW PEARSON

WASH MERRY GO ROUND—h WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—How important efficient military intelligence is to victory or defeat is illustrated by some of the inside facts on the recent German counterattacks both in Italy and Belgium.

In Belgium, it is now recognized, the U. S. command was not sufficiently aware of the massing of German troops ready for the counter-attack. The result was tragic.

But in Italy, military intelligence spotted Nazi preparations against the All-Negro 92nd division in advance. So when the enemy attacked, the 92nd was prepared. They had thrown up strong defenses to fall back on, withdrew to these and then held firm.

It had been figured, both in Washington and at General Clark's headquarters in Rome, that if the Nazis counter-attacked they would center on this Negro division.

In Belgium, however, someone not only was off guard, but apparently was overconfident. The division against which the Nazis aimed their drive was a completely green and raw division never before under fire, and it was only natural the Nazis picked this spot.

Possibly Nazi intelligence was so alert it spotted this division's arrival in Europe, for it was in France but a few weeks when it went up into the line.

Meanwhile the 92nd division in Italy had been under fire since last August. The first day it went into the line, incidentally, the Negro troops got a 2-hour pasting from German artillery and stood up very well. There was no Nazi counter-attack at that time, however.

Long Weak G-2
 For a long time, it has been admitted in high-up army circles, that G-2 or military intelligence has been one of the weakest branches of the army. Several head plays have been chalked up to it.

1—The prediction in 1940 that France would hold (she folded in a few weeks); 2—The prediction in the summer of 1940 that England would be taken (she hasn't been taken yet); 3—The prediction in June, 1941, that Moscow would fall in a few weeks.

Another honor credited to G-2 is not knowing that three divisions were lying in wait for Allied forces when we landed at Salerno. There was another bad intelligence boner at Kiska when we bombed the island for days after the Japs had left, but naval intelligence will have to bear the chief blame for that.

Reason for intelligence mistakes in both the army and navy is attributed to their closed shop policy, whereby a preponderant number of bluebloods, bankers, and socially elite were permitted to pass the pearly gates to join up in their coveted jobs.

As a result of some of these mistakes, the army last spring undertook a shake-up of military intelligence, under the leadership of forthright assistant secretary John McCloy. Since then it was hoped that G-2 operations would be better.

Coy Dan Tobin
 Dan Tobin, head of the teamsters union, is in a unique position. Back in 1932 he wanted very much to be secretary of labor but couldn't get the appointment. Now he could get it, but doesn't want it.

In the Roosevelt-Herbert Hoover campaign, Tobin was just as energetic in his support of the president as he was last November.
 After the election Jim Farley was to help him get the cabinet post of labor secretary. That was 12 years ago. Tobin was younger then, and wanted the job.

The president-elect actually talked to him about it, but later Miss Perkins was appointed, and Jim Farley explained that Mrs.
 Roosevelt had contended the women's vote was so strong something had to be done to recognize the women.

Tobin took the decision with good grace and kept on working for FDR.

Suggested in 1943
 Then in 1943, about a year and a half ago, the same cabinet post once again was dangled before his eyes. Tobin, AFL President Green and CIO President Phil Murray were calling on Roosevelt about the muddled labor situation, when he pulled out of his desk a letter of resignation from Miss Perkins which she had submitted in 1941

A PURITAN VILLAGE IN 1680
 IV

THE basic principles of human conduct in the Puritan civilization were Work and Piety, but they were inseparable and had to be practiced together. If you had been a Puritan of the 17th century you might have been possibly one of the most willing, industrious and capable workers in the colony. But if you had lacked Piety, if you had neglected the church, if you had played games on Sunday, if you had observed Christmas as a holiday and a time of merrymaking, the heavy hand of authority would have fallen on you and most of your holidays would have been spent in the stocks.

But on the other hand, let us suppose that you were as pious as Cotton Mather, that you never failed to pray and to attend church, to read the Bible and to keep the holy commandments;
 but, let us suppose further, that you never got out of bed until 10 in the morning, that you never did a stroke of work and scorned industry of all kinds. In that case, though your Piety would have been commendable you would have found yourself in the stocks, side by side with the athe-ist who made work his religion.

The Walling family combined Work and Piety in such sound proportions that the two parts fitted together perfectly.

Every member of the family—except the very young children—had some kind of work to do.
 Even little daughter Patience, who was only 8, had been taught to embroider samplers and to hem table napkins.

HENRY, the oldest son—he was 22—was employed by his uncle in Boston. This relative owned a number of vessels that made trading voyages to the West Indies. Young Henry did not expect to remain permanently in the shipping trade. His father just before Roosevelt was inaugurated for a third term.

"Find me someone to take her place," the president said, "and I'll appoint him."

Then he suggested that one of the three labor leaders present should be secretary of labor.

After the three got back to their hotel, Green and Murray asked Tobin: "Why don't you take it?
 We'll support you?"

"Why don't one of you take it, Phil?" countered the boss teamster.

"There's a very good reason why I'll never be secretary of labor," shot back Murray. "Because the AFL would never have me."

Green pointed out that the same thing applied to him regarding his rival, the CIO.

Nothing more came of the White House conversation and Miss Perkins continued on. Now she has said flatly that she will not continue, and there have been some definite indications the president would like to appoint Tobin. This time, however, the teamsters' chief is not at all enthusiastic. Being older, he sees a lot of headaches ahead. So he has told friends that he will not be secretary of labor.

• Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
 NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—(AP)—When Branch Rickey was testing the reactions of newspapermen the other day—(they thought they were getting some news)—he came out quite strongly in favor of the appointment of a national sports coordinator. . . . As a confirmed anti-czar guy, we can't see where he advanced any good arguments except that during these uncertain times a co-ordinator could deal better with other agencies in Washington. . . . Personally, we can't think of any one man whose knowledge could encompass all the details of, say, the baseball farm systems and scoring a figure skating competition.

Is This Consistent?
 Rickey says he has a candidate (not identified) for the sports coordinator's job and then, urging the immediate appointment of a baseball commissioner, he refuses to make any nominations. . . . It seems from here that any guy who could supervise all sports could handle the baseball job with one hand—in fact, he'd have to.

 record books are wrong in listing less than 200 fights for him. . . .
 It's 298—well, more than 200—make it 300, that's a good round

wanted him to pass a few years in that occupation, and to make might learn something of the world at first hand. After his experience in business and travel he was to come home and give his time to the Walling farm, and other properties.

The second son, who had the Puritan name of Feargod, worked on the farm under Samuel Gay lord. He was, no, a laborer but a kind of student, learning what he could. Feargod Walling cherished a deep and ranking discontent which broke out occasionally in tantrums, or at a tempo.
 He did not want to be a farmer;
 he had no interest in the soil, in agriculture, in stock breeding, yet he was bound to these occupations, probably for life. If he lived today he would be called an intellectual. In 17th-century New England the only pursuits open to an intellectual were the ministry and schoolteaching.
 Feargod, although a faithful Puritan, was not sufficiently theological in tempera-nt to pass his life preaching o- Biblical texts. As to schoolteaching—that was impossible. In all colonial communities the schoolteacher stood low in the social scale, and usually with good reason. He was often a drunkard, or ne'er-do-wen, and his pay was so small that he had to live in a state of perpetual shabbiness. No, Feargod Walling did not want to be a schoolmaster.

HARRIET, the Wallings' oldest daughter, had been taught to do everything that belonged to the duties of a Puritan housewife.
 Part of each day she spent in the spinning and weaving room in the lean-to, where she spun flax and wool and wove them into cloth.
 Among her occupations was the accumulation of linen for her own hope chest. She had already 12 pairs of linen sheets. She had also 21 towels and 46 table napkins.

S-C Tigers Play At Home Tonight

The Smith-Cotton Tigers play their first basketball game on the home court for 1945, tonight, when they meet the Windsor high school quintet. The Tigers in a tough battle lost their first 1945 game last Tuesday night to the College high school team of Warrensburg, by one point.

Local basketballers hope to start their winning streak with a victory over the strong Windsor competition.

The "B" teams of Windsor and Sedalia will meet in a curtain raiser at 7 o'clock to be followed at 8 o'clock by the Varsity game.

Saturday morning the Sunday school basketball league will start playing. The schedule of the Saturday games is: First Baptist vs.
 First Methodist at 10 o'clock; Epworth Methodist at 10:35 o'clock and the First Christian vs. Sacred Heart at 11:10 o'clock.

The large number of napkins was due to the fact that forks had not come into use as table implements. Food was picked up on the flat end of a knife, or in a spoon, or with the bare hands.
 Whenever bones were encountered, as in a turkey or a piece of pork, both hands were used. In the course of an ordinary meal the hands became soiled several times. Before each person at the table stood a small ewer of water in which he would dip his hands and wipe them with a napkin. As a result many napkins were used each meal.

Waitress's wife Rebecca, a plump and blooming matron, was busy every day from morning to night with household tasks. Besides her grown daughter she had two maids to help her, and all of them had as much as they could do. Cooking stoves did not exist —nobody had ever heard of such thing—and the huge meals were cooked on an open fire. In the hard back of the kitchen there was a brick oven for baking bread and roasting venison. All the water used in the house had to be brought by hand from a well in the barnyard.

In addition to the ordinary household activities there were others which are entirely unknown to the modern housekeeper, such as candle molding, soap making, weaving and dyeing, the making of brooms and the brewing of beer for the household.

Another of her jobs was the compounding of household remedies. Every girl, before her marriage, was trained to make palsy drops, multheadache, Venice treacle, small water and pokeberry plaster, besides a long list of other salves and potions. There were no physicians in Sedbury and the nearest apothecary was in Boston, so the housewife had to be prepared to meet sickness in the family with remedies from her own medicine closet.

War Bonds Sales $21,621,000,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)— Total sales in the record-smashing Sixth War Loan drive were announced Thursday as $21,639,000-000.

This is a billion dollars above the previous all-time world financing record of $20,639,000,000 established in the Fifth War Loan last summer.

The nation in its first Christmas season bond drive took the theme,
 "The war's not over yet," and piled up one and a half times the quota of 14 billion dollars.

The hard-to-get quota of $2-500,000,000 for series E-bond was also over subscribed.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, announcing the final results at a special news conference, said final sales of "the people's war bond" were $2,368,000,000.

This was not a new record but it was more than many treasury officials had dared to hope. The "Sixth" was not only the first year season drive, but it marked the first time three drives had been held in one year.

No exact figures were ready on sales to individuals and corporations. But Morgenthau said individual sales were about $5,900-000,000, nearly a billion dollars above the individual quota of $5-000,000,000.

Building of Jalna" by Mazo De La Roche in a most delightful manner.

The author, Miss Hurley said, had written a number of books about the Whiteoaks family with always a certain member of the family as the leading character, but always the predominating character in the stories was Adeline Whiteoaks who was known as Granny Whiteoaks. Her personality was so vivid that her presence was always felt strongly throughout each story. This book, the speaker said, was the latest one written by the author and gave the story of the youth, romance and young motherhood of Adeline.

Adeline was a very beautiful girl, born in Ireland, with striking personality and a high temper. She went to England to visit her sister Julia where she met Captain Philip Whiteoaks, an Englishman, fell in love with, and married him. To them was born one child, baby Augusta, who was not a sweet child. Then Captain Whiteoaks received a legacy in Quebec, Canada, and the family moved to the new world. He sold there and went to Ontario where they were to build a home. While living with friends in Ontario their second child was born, Nicholas.

Building of Home
The story told of the building of the home Jalna, the construction, the planning, the dreams that went into it. And here was born their third child, Jonathan. The story closes with Adeline and Philip looking down on the years to come with faith and security—Jalna was their home, something to hold to.

The meeting opened with invocation by Mrs. Herbert Berlin.

Miss Bertha Rose, president of the club, presided over the business meeting at which time she announced the members of the Publicity and Publications committee who were in charge of the program. They were Miss Rosemary Burrows, Miss Mary Shanks, Mrs. H. D. R. Allen, Miss Ruth Fults, Mrs. Virginia Flower Hayes, Miss Verona Neumeyer, Miss Marguerite O'Connell and Mrs. Marie A. Spendiff.

Musical Program
Miss Rose then turned the meeting over to Miss Burrows who presented one of Sedalia's talented young musicians, Miss Betty Jo Watts, violinist. Miss Watts played, "Nocturne" by Chopin and "Serenade" by Drdla. She was accompanied by another of Sedalia's best known young musicians, Miss Lillian Fox.

Miss Burrows then introduced the speaker, Miss Hurley.

Pep songs were led during the evening by Miss Anna Marie Morsemann with Mrs. W. L. Monagan at the piano.

Captain Rush, who is associated with her husband, Captain A. R. Rush, at the Salvation Army here, was introduced by Miss Lois Fricke, membership chairman, as a new member.

Programs were miniature newspapers, "The BPWC Chronical."

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Ralph Baird, guest of Mrs. Raymond Lippard; Mrs. O. L. Scott, guest of Mrs. Undrill Renshaw; Lt. Rose Liebrand, who is stationed at the Sedalia Army Air Field, guest of Miss Bertha Rose and Miss Pearl Tongate, Mrs. Virginia Draper and Miss Hazel Lang, guests of Miss Burrows.

PTA Plans for Founders Day

At the meeting of the Sedalia Council of Parents and Teachers Wednesday afternoon at the public library, Mrs. A. J. Gregory gave the devotional service and the business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Lloyd Kennon.

Plans were made for "Founders Day," to be held next month. Mrs. Nelson White is "Founders Day" chairman. Mrs. M. E. Green announced that the national parent-teacher radio program, "The Baxters," is being broadcast over WDAF on Monday mornings at 11:30 o'clock.

The following gave unit reports: Broadway, Mrs. Cecil Bohon; Jefferson, Mrs. Verney Engholm; Horace Mann, Mrs. L. D. Rice; Mark Twain, Mrs. Max Fischer; Washington, Mrs. Nelson LeBeau; Whittier, Mrs. Cecil Glenn; Smith-Cotton, Mrs. A. J. Gregory; Pre-school, Mrs. W. H. Prowell.

With each succeeding year that the war is prolonged, automobile production recovery would require additional time, due to accelerated obsolescence of present cars.

Judge Refuses To Halt Execution

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Federal Judge James A. Fee refused Thursday to halt the execution of Robert E. Lee Folkes, 23, Negro "Lower 13" slayer, scheduled for tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Folkes was convicted of knifing Mrs. Martha Virginia James, 21, of Norfolk, Va., as she lay in her lower berth on a southbound Southern Pacific train two years ago. Previously the United States supreme court and the Oregon state supreme court had refused to rehear the case, and a request for clemency from Gov. Earl Snell has not been answered.

Three hundred Mexican trainees, now undergoing flight instruction at Randolph Field, comprise the first group of its kind.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
